Secrets and lies exact a harsh toll

Deception or silence about their fathers damage our youth

By Cristina Hernandez

A father and son head for their fishing hole at Mulkey Run Recreation Park in southeast Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. Young people faced with family secrets or lies such as the true identity of their fathers often help manage the emotional trauma.